Debbie Rowe

### Personal Life

- **Early Life**: Deborah Jeanne Rowe, known as Debbie Rowe, was born on December 6, 1958, in Spokane, Washington. Her parents divorced when she was very young, and she was raised by her mother, grandmother, and aunts.
- **Marriages and Family**: Debbie married Richard Edelman in 1982, but they divorced in 1988. She later married pop icon Michael Jackson in 1996, and they had two children together: Michael Joseph Jackson Jr. (Prince) and Paris Jackson. The couple divorced in 1999.

- Later Years: Debbie has maintained a relatively private life, focusing on her personal interests and passions, such as horse breeding and animal welfare.

### Professional Life

- Career: Debbie Rowe worked as a dermatology assistant for Dr. Arnold Klein, where she met Michael Jackson while he was being treated for vitiligo. Her professional background in dermatology played a significant role in her life, particularly during her marriage to Jackson.

- Public Appearances: Despite her high-profile marriage, Debbie has generally avoided the limelight. She did, however, testify in Michael Jackson's 2005 trial, supporting him during the legal proceedings.

Debbie Rowe's life has been marked by her connections to Michael Jackson and her dedication to her personal passions.
